Business owners, yacht club officials refute rumors of offers for property sales

BY TRACI BONNEY
The yacht club isn't up for sale — yet.

Commodore Rick Eagan said there have been no written offers directed to him for sale of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, contrary to recent rumors.

He inferred, however, that the club may have been approached informally, and said the club's board of governors plans to hold a meeting January 18 to discuss dockside gambling and its potential impact on the club.

When asked whether the board or the stockholders will make the decision concerning selling the club, in the event that an official offer is made, Eagan said, "To be honest, I don't have the answer for that."

Attorney Lucien Gex, legal counsel for the board of governors, did have the answer.

"The board has the authority to sell it," he stated. He explained that the yacht club's land and building are considered assets of the corporation, and the board is authorized to sell any assets it sees fit to sell.

"That doesn't mean they are selling it," he added quickly with a chuckle.

If an individual or corporation did buy the club for dockside gambling or any other commercial operation, the money would be wasted, according to Bay St. Louis Mayor Edward Favre.

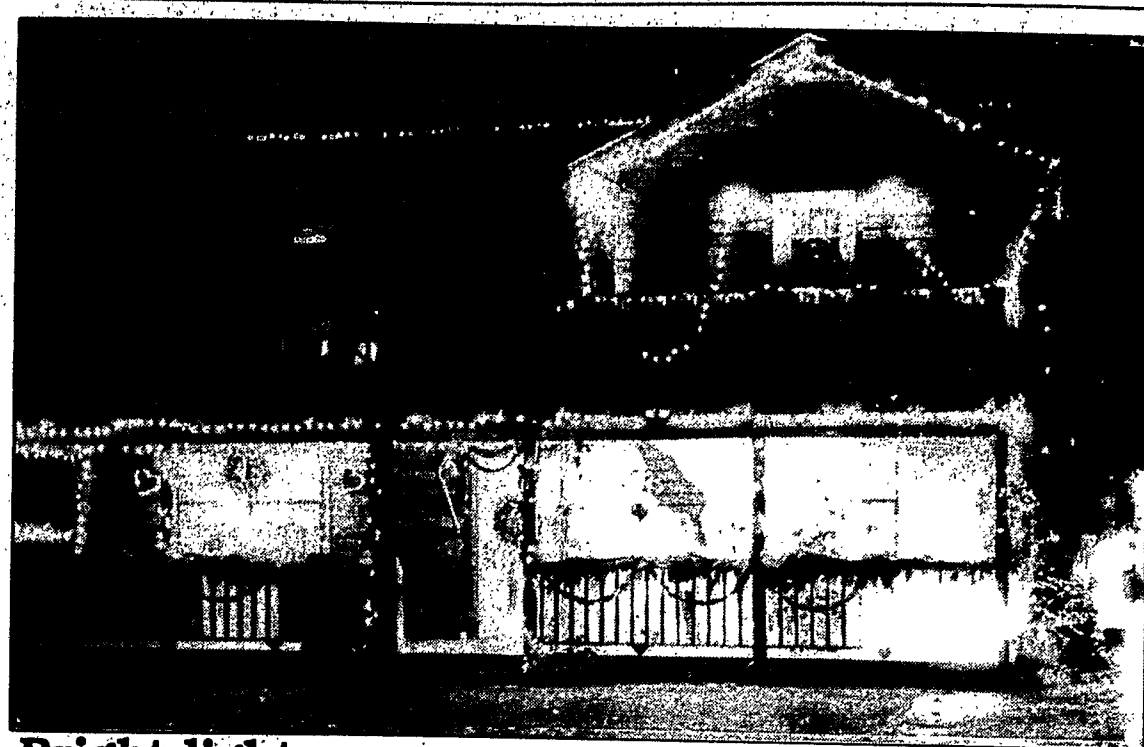

Favre said the club, a commercial operation, is allowed in its current location, a residential zone, by a grandfather clause in the zoning. If the club were sold for use as a commercial operation other than a yacht club, a zoning change would be needed, "which this administration would not support," he added.

While rumors fly concerning the yacht club's possible sale, other rumors are circulating that business owners between the railroad bridge and Dock of the Bay have been approached about selling their properties to gambling interests.

Barry Pincus, owner of Bay Crafts, said that idea is "absolutely rumor," that he has not been approached or made an offer.

Zoning violations, annexation, addressed by Bay City Council

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The Bay St. Louis City Council addressed an assortment of issues at Tuesday night's meeting.

Mayor Edward Favre provided the council with rough estimates of the cost for additional services if the city annexes Bay Cove and the immediate area.

The project would include improvements in the area including the paving of Engman Avenue of which part is already within the city limits.

The total estimate for the services needed was $99,000. Of that amount, $30,000 would be marked for paving, $10,000 for water extension, $8,500 for drainage and $51,000 for sewer improvements.

The figure for the cost of the services needed for the Engman area already within the city would be about $9,000 of the $99,000 figure, Favre stated.

Favre indicated the figures were all just estimates and the feasibility of annexing the area would have to be studied further.

Bay residents voice gambling concerns

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Bay St. Louis resident Franya Ethridge voiced her concerns at Tuesday's meeting of the Bay St. Louis City Council about "a lot of misinformation going on around about the legalization of dockside gambling."

In a prepared statement, Ethridge said, "First of all, the majority of voters in Bay St. Louis did not support it. Even though gambling passed by a narrow margin county-wide, most of the votes cast in Bay St. Louis were against it."

Ethridge indicated there were many rumored locations, such as the mouth of the Jourdan River, bay bridge, downtown, and

Guard members come home for Christmas

BY JANET MCQUEEN

Members of Mississippi National Guard Detachment 1 of the 1355th S & S Bay St. Louis Unit will arrive on home turf Saturday evening to enjoy Christmas with their families, according to Jay Lagasse, armory custodian and member of the local Family Support Group.

The group will travel by bus from Fort Rucker, Alabama and will arrive at the Kmart (Choctaw Plaza) shopping center in Waveland. Families may contact the support group for the exact time of arrival.

Vicki Overall, wife of Sgt. William Joseph Overall Jr., expressed the delight of the Guard members' families, relating their loved ones will remain at home until Wednesday. They will return by bus early Wednesday morning.

ASRM certified

Testing at Stennis two steps closer

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The State of Mississippi's Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) is expected to pass certification today on the wetlands mitigation permit submitted by NASA for the intended Advanced Solid Rocket Motor (ASRM) testing.

Dwight Wylie, chief of the DEQ's air quality division reported that, "staff recommendation is to go through with the certification."

The DEQ Board granted permits for air and waste water pollution to NASA Tuesday.

NASA must now obtain one last permit on wetlands mitigation before they may begin construction of the test site.

The wetlands mitigation permit is obtained through the Corps of Engineers, which watchdogs for the federal government.

The Corps of Engineers requires certification from the state, and upon that recommendation, will either grant the permit or deny it.

Opponents of the ASRM testing in Southern Mississippi have not given up, reported Lydia Schultz, president of Citizens for a Healthy Environment.

"We are going to have to talk to our attorney," said Schultz, "and see where we will go from here."

Wylie explained that opponents to the permits may appeal within 30 days, but the appeal process will not stop the construction.

He said, "Only a court order can stop construction of the site, once the wetlands mitigation permit is obtained."

Carroll Gordon, representing Congressman Gene Taylor, reported that he had not yet taken a stand on the wetlands permit, but would be checking into it.

Speaking for Taylor, Gordon said he opposes the proposed testing for environmental and economic concerns.

Gordon said, "NASA is taking too high of a risk."

"If one monitor shows danger" throughout the testing alternative, "controlled technology" whereby the exhaust can be contained.

"We do not ascribe to extremes," said Gordon, "We would like to see NASA perform studies where the emissions can be neutralized and confined to the buffer zone."

Gordon previously spoke before staff representatives of the DEQ during a public hearing in Hancock County on December 6, advocating "wet scrubbing," which is the wetting down of the emissions with water and the treating of that water before release back into the environment.

Rebecca McCaleb, environmental officer at NASA,

"My feelings are, we are not going to appeal (the permits), we are going to let it stand. It isn't worth the time and money"

—Esher

"they lose the permits."

According to Gordon, the loss of the permits means NASA will then have to find an alternative method and all time and money prior will have been wasted.

Instead, Gordon would like to see NASA give up on the intended testing program, where the exhaust of the firing is permitted to rise into the air, and investigate further into an explained that the technology to wet scrub emissions has not yet been developed.

She continued to explain the permit includes a section whereby NASA is ordered to continue research in alternate methods of emissions handling and to use such technology when developed.

Pink Ladies donate

Four external use pulse oximeters were presented to the Hancock Medical Center on Monday by the HMC's Pink Ladies. Those in photo are, from left, Dr. J.D. Rutherford III, HMC chief of staff; Theresa Bourgeois, HMC Pink Ladies president; and Don Henderson, HMC administrator. The oximeters are used to measure the amount of oxygen in a person's blood externally on a continuous basis, Dr. Rutherford said. The donation of the four units adds to the number of units now being used at HMC. Henderson said the units are used primarily on persons who are very sick, and the portable units can be used throughout the hospital. (Echo staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

OBITUARIES

WILLIAM BARRETT SR.
CECILIA H. REPAL
DONNA ROWE SMITH

William H. "Bill" Barrett Sr., 62, of Pass Christian died Monday, Dec. 17, 1990, in Biloxi.

Mr. Barrett, a native of New Orleans, had lived in Pass Christian for the past 25 years. He was a painter and a boat repairman and the owner-operator of Barrett's Marine in Pass Christian. He was a former boat racer in the Southeastern United States.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Nell Barrett of Pass Christian; three daughters, Mrs. Cheryl Smith and Mrs. Cynthia Mims of Atlanta and Mrs. Charlene Degioanni of Gatlinburg, Tenn.; a son, William H. Barrett Jr. of Pass Christian; a brother, Dr. Ronald Barrett of New Orleans; and nine grandchildren.

Memorial services were conducted Wednesday evening at Jacob Schoen and Son Funeral Home, New Orleans.

CECILIA H. REPAL
Cecilia H. Repal, 75, of Waveland died Sunday, Dec. 16, 1990, in Gulfport.

The body was sent from Riemann Funeral Home in Gulfport to Tharp-Sontheimer-Tharp Funeral Home in New Orleans for services and burial.

DONNA ROWE SMITH
Mrs. Donna Rowe Smith, 33, Long Beach, died Friday, Dec. 14, 1990, in Gulfport.

Mrs. Smith was a homemaker and a Baptist.

Survivors include her husband, P. Michael Smith of Long Beach; two sons, Chuck Edward Johnson and Bobby Bull of Long Beach; her mother, Charlene Ladner of Long Beach; her father, Lyle James Rowe of Woodville, Texas; three brothers, Gary Goff of Long Beach, Frank Goff of Pass Christian and Robert Rowe of Gulfport; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nations of Woodville.

Visitation was Monday at Riemann Funeral Home in Gulfport. Graveside services were conducted Monday at Long Beach City Cemetery.

Gambling

American Legion property.

"Under the present zoning, dockside gambling is not allowed. The proposed zoning changes would not only extend all present coastal zoning past the water's edge, but it will also allow casino gambling in all of our commercially zoned districts. In other words, anything zoned C-1, C-2, and C-3, coastal or otherwise, would eventually be available for gambling. In addition, the ordinance, as proposed, would allow the gambling to extend to industrial zones as well.

"It's good that existing zoning should extend past the water's edge. And it's good that we are trying to annex the Bay Cove area so that we can try to control the effect of that proposal.

"Many of us, however are extremely concerned about opening the floodgates to allow gambling in all commercially zoned areas within the city.

"Some pro-gambling forces say that the state preempts our local zoning ordinances, and that we are forced to change our local ordinances to allow casino gambling in our city limits. That's pure bunk.

"We do have a choice. We don't have to let outside interests railroad the city into selling out our way of life so they can line their pockets.

"Many of us were raised here. Others choose to live here, many seeking refuge from the traffic congestion, crime and ugly commercialization of larger cities.

"These are important concerns which must be balanced against the cash being waved in front of our noses... We as a community have nothing to lose and everything to gain by proceeding with caution."

Her husband, Joe Ethridge, president of Struthers Industries Inc., Gulfport; president of the Mississippi Manufacturers Association; and president of the combined Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce, also addressed the council.

He said he has lived here for 10 or 12 years, and apologized to the city leaders for not becoming more involved in the community.

He emphasized the importance of the council using caution and indicated there were many people opposed to gambling who have sat back too long.

Guard activates family support

The Mississippi National Guard has activated family assistance centers throughout the state to support families of mobilized National Guard and Army Reserve units.

The centers will assist family members in obtaining benefits available to active duty dependents and will provide legal advice and financial referrals.

The closest facility for Hancock County residents is National Guard Armory, Hiller Park, Biloxi, MS 39533, 388-1952 or 1-800-832-0697.

The centers will be open weekdays, usually from 7:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. However, times may vary depending on location.

Familiar carols you would sing—

Still joy and warmth to me they bring.

The careful way your work was done—

The love you gave to me and your son...

How special you were Gaynell, my Dear,

You brought us happiness throughout the years!

Through faith God's plan unfolds;

Yet, the void we feel cannot be told.

B's and The Cathouse, also said he has not been offered any sum of money for his holdings. "I heard there will be no definite offers until the (state) Supreme Court rules (on bingo)," he said. "But that's just hearsay."

However, Decell did say several beachfront business owners met briefly and informally to discuss the idea of forming a corporation. He said nothing was settled, but the owners did decide that "we'd best stick together in this."

Larry Louis in the wetlands division of the Bureau of Marine Resources confirmed that to his knowledge, no serious plans have been initiated for a dockside gambling facility.

"There have been no permit applications made," he said.

When asked about the need for dredging if a company decides to locate a gambling vessel on the beachfront in the Bay of St. Louis, he said, "There is a strong possibility that some dredging would have to be done."

Louis added that BMR has received several inquiries over the telephone, requests for information from attorneys and engineers doing research for their clients.

Quiet time

KILLING TIME

By Traci Bonney

I'm beginning to value long car trips.

I turned 25 Tuesday, but the hectic life I've led the past few weeks is trying to age me considerably. Between work, church activities and a book manuscript I'm working on, I'm surprised I have time to breathe. I'm just glad God made breathing one of those things we do automatically, or I might forget to continue doing it.

The pace at work began to pick up when my boss asked me to go to Wiggins three weeks ago to help out at the Stone County Enterprise, which is owned by The Sea Coast Echo.

They're short a person at the moment, so I was asked to work there on Mondays.

No problem. For two Mondays I went up to Wiggins, typeset copy, wrote a couple of articles and came home.

Then this week, a family emergency arose with the editor/publisher of the Stone County Enterprise, and I was asked to work both Monday and Tuesday in Wiggins, typing copy and writing Monday, and finishing up those items so I could paste up the paper Tuesday so it could be printed Wednesday.

Believe it or not, all this does tie in with my first statement about long car trips.

The trip to Wiggins takes just more than an hour from my apartment in Waveland. To me, anything longer than 30 minutes is a "long car trip."

Well, I once barely tolerated such journeys as a necessary nuisance. Now though, I'm starting to like them.

If you don't like to drive, you're probably staring at this column and wondering which activity finally fried my brain. But this isn't too hard to understand, once you think about it.

Consider this: you have a rough day and a rougher week ahead of you. You need some time to yourself to think, pray, sing offkey at the top of your voice along with the radio, whatever. How can you get this time?

Aha! I do believe I see a few mental lightbulbs flashing on out there in Echo-land.

Now you see why a once burdensome activity has become a blessing to me. I now find comfort, strength and peace in being totally alone for an hour of uninterrupted time to do whatever I need to prepare for the day.

But don't get me wrong; I'll be glad when things settle down again — at least, for a little while. I get bored when things are too settled.

Joseph Colson property in the 500 block of Main Street.

Colson said he has had a lot of problems, was in the process of moving, had troubles with his auto's transmission, financial problems, and would like "for someone to come and tell me what I can do."

Councilman James Thrifflay stated, "Regardless of what you (Colson) say, the place is a salvage yard, and I do not see any improvements, and I pass it every day. I agree with the mayor or that we have given you numerous opportunities."

"You have taken up a lot of time with many people at City Hall, and your property is not complying with the ordinances," Thrifflay added.

Colson reported he would like to open a woodworking shop for youth, both black and white, like he conducted in Brazil, with some of the materials he has at the site.

The council agreed with the mayor to follow up with court proceedings against Colson, which would probably be the week after next before the paper work could be ready. They agreed the time Colson would have to comply would be between now and the court date.

The mayor agreed to visit with Colson on the site as he had requested.

Treva Smart, coordinator for the Epilepsy Foundation in Pearl River County, addressed the council about offering the same program for local citizens with the cooperation of Hancock County and Waveland.

Smart said, "One out of 100 persons has epilepsy, which can be caused by many things such as head injuries and circulation problems. It affects all age groups."

The program includes education information for schools, businesses, police and fire departments and anyone who is interested in becoming educated about epilepsy, according to Smart.

Smart reported she had already appeared before the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and was to address Waveland officials last night.

In order for the governing agencies to be able to fund such a program, a local and private bill would have to be passed by the state legislature. Council members were unanimous in their support of the foundation's request.

The council briefly discussed a tree ordinance which is being prepared and will come up for a public hearing at 5 p.m. on January 15.

The city received a request from a business owner interested in purchasing 1.1 acres of land located on the Bayou Gallere Road. Council members are to review the property in person before making a commitment.

County school board anticipates budget cuts

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The Hancock County School Board decided to wait before accepting bids on new typewriters and T.V. monitors until after the first of the year, for fear that state education cuts may force them to cancel all new purchases.

The Monday, Dec. 17 meeting concluded all business until next month when the board meets again on January 7.

Wrapping up the year, the board approved:

—The resignation of Constance G. Lane (Job Placement Training Act) aide, effective December 5.

—To rescind the resignation of Kay Lovelace as varsity cheerleader sponsor.

—The October 1990 Activity Fund Accounts for all schools.

—Advertisement for bids for track equipment and supplies.

—Advertisement for ten computer stations at Gulfview Elementary School to be purchased from Chapter I funds.

—Advertisement for bids for caps and gowns for Hancock High School.

—To add Hancock High School to the security contract with Dictograph Security for monitoring alarms at $21 per month additional cost.

—Payment of $228,127.50 to Peoples Bank for the semi annual payment on the School Bond Issue.

—Acceptance of the low quote for vocational materials. Some of the cost will be reimbursed by the state, such as hand tools.

Not reimbursed will be supplies, such as lumber, explained assistant superintendent Eddie Dansey.

—Acceptance of the low quote on a Fax machine for the central office.

—Purchase of testing materials as a single source item for all the schools in the District.

Goodwill donations bring tax deductions for 1990

Hancock County residents are reminded tax deductions are still available for donations to Goodwill Industries.

"Many people clean out closets between Christmas and New Year's," said Goodwill executive director LeRoy Modenbach. "Large items, such as appliances, donated now are deductible for 1990."

Local retail store manager Avis Morreale accepts donations Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Pick-up service is available for large items by phoning the store at 467-7277.

Pearlington Methodist plans candlelight service

Pearlington United Methodist Church, Pearlington, will conduct a Christmas Eve candlelight service and carol sing, beginning at 7 p.m. The program will feature scripture readings, traditional carols and special music.

The public is invited. For more information, call 533-7716.

Safe holiday drinking urged

Volunteers of the Committee on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse for Greater New Orleans distributed posters in commemoration with the 'Save the Holidays—Know When to Say When Month,' to shopping areas and centers. The project is aimed at making the holiday season safe.

The purpose is to promote responsible drinking, and to remind the public of the information and help available through the 524-HELP number for individuals and families with alcohol and drug problems.

Programs, speakers, consultations, advice, and help are available by calling the Committee on Alcoholism & Drug Abuse at 524-HELP, or, if out of area, toll free, 1-800-749-7444.

...and Our beat goes on.

Once again, we beat our old record for corporate contributions. Next year we intend to do even more.

We don't tell you this to toot our own horn. But to suggest that now is a particularly good time for corporations and individuals alike to stretch out a helping hand. To support organizations in fields like social and public services, research, arts and culture, education and economic development.

It's the holiday season. There could be no more appropriate time to expand your gift list to include one or more non-profit organizations. You'll feel richer for it.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

This is the time of year when folks drive around the area to view Christmas decorations.

There are some very nice displays this year in Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Diamondhead.

Some Christmas displays have been recognized by the Bay—Waveland Garden Club, and I know that this has been going on since 1940, as I recently recorded in the Archives a few issues ago.

I haven't made all the rounds yet, but I have noticed some nice decorations on Diamondhead Drive, at the James Austin residence off the Old Spanish Trail near Seube (first place winner), on Genin Street, Main Street in the Bay, Yvonne Landry, 515 St. Anthony, (first place) and my brother Felton's residence on Victoria off Bouslog in Waveland, (second place).

Felton told me that he and his wife Patsy and neighbors worked some seven weeks to get their decorations up.

I hope to get out and see more of the decorations in the next few nights.

It does take a lot of effort to construct decorations, and we should all be grateful for those who take the time.

It is hard to believe that Diamondhead Community is celebrating 20 years, as it seems just yesterday when the development was announced.

Tonight there will be some big celebrations at Diamondhead beginning at 7 p.m. at the Country Club.

Noted resident Evelyn McPhail will emcee the event with Dave Walters entertaining.

There will be special prices on beverages, and a $6 per person charge for hors d'oeuvres. Other special guests are scheduled to make an appearance.

Among persons and things to be recognized will be the first resident, first condo owner, first business person, first baby born to a Diamondhead resident, and many more.

It sounds like it will be a fun time for all who attend. Diamondhead's community has meant a lot to Hancock County and will continue to do so in the years to come.

I have written and read about a lot of 'new developments' being announced in Hancock County, but very few have become a reality like Diamondhead has.

The affair is open to the public, and you may want to visit with our friends and neighbors of Diamondhead tonight.

Christmas is just a few days in coming, and I know some folks are ready for the big event while others may not be.

In conversations with some, their response is that they are beginning to wind down for the big holiday, while others are beginning to become really busy.

I would like to recommend to folks once again to Shop at Home during this holiday season.

Your local merchants have just about any item you may want to purchase, and when you buy locally you help the community as well as your friends and neighbors.

Budget shortfall, education big issues for 1991 Legislature

Within a few days, one of the most important legislative sessions ever will begin in Jackson.

The reason that the 1991 session will be so significant is because of the many issues that will face us.

And two of the biggest issues are education and the current budget shortfall.

For the past several months, I have been meeting with Legislators. Our mission: To attempt to solve the ongoing budget shortfall and discover new sources of revenue to fund education.

Last week, we came one step closer to finding a solution.

In a meeting held with legislative leaders and members of the Mississippi Business Forum, all of us agreed that we must put all other considerations aside, and solve our common problems.

While we centered on the budget, our conversation emphasized solutions.

Among the things that we agreed upon were that we must continue to keep the lines of communication open. We agreed to ask our staffs to get together regularly, with the goal of coming up with a proposal for a solution to the budget crisis prior to the legislative session.

Finally, and perhaps the most significant thing we agreed upon was to concentrate on answers to the budget situation, and not on the differences that we may have.

Our priorities are many. We agree that education, health, law enforcement, economic development and vital state services are at the top of the list. We further agree that we must come up with answers to the budget shortfall soon, or more dramatic cuts will have to be made.

Lieutenant Governor Brad Dye was quoted by a Jackson newspaper as saying, "We had the most cooperative meeting we've had in some time."

"It finally dawned on all of us that we work for the same people," the public."

House Speaker Tim Ford echoed the Lieutenant Governor when he told another reporter, "There seems to be more of a cooperative tone than in meetings before."

Waveland mayor deserves support

To the Editor:

To the citizens of Waveland: We confidently voted Mayor Stella Fritot into office. Are we now going to put her under a microscope, and at every possible chance, criticize her every administrative decision?

Let's support our new mayor. It's a new Waveland. Things will change.

Sincerely,

Critics of gambling are all hypocrites

To the Editor,

It is interesting to note that all of the self-righteous, indignant, and outspoken who oppose gambling in the community are allowing their true colors of hypocrisy to show.

There is not one of them who is not a gambler at heart. There is not one who does not have a large portion of their monthly income set aside for the purpose of throwing it away in a gamble of one form or another.

Auto insurance is a gamble. When we pay the man exorbitant sums of money to insure ourselves against accidents, we are really betting that we will have one. If and when we do, the man pays off. We can then take the winnings and fix the car, or spend it elsewhere.

This form of gambling is legal, just as dockside gambling is now legal. It is already accepted—even by the ones who yell the loudest against gambling. Do they gamble? You bet they do!

These are the ones who will fight against something that they themselves do. Then, if they do not get their way, they become outraged. They threaten to sue. They prophesy evil to the community. They mumble, speaking behind the backs of the people, stirring up dissension, never accepting what the people have decided.

Yet they themselves are gamblers. They will send a check every month to the health insurance company, a substantial sum of money. They are placing their regular monthly bet that they will get sick. When they do get sick, the man pays off, using the same odds that the bookies do.

When those who scream so loud and stomp their feet that gambling is "evil," send their monthly check to the life insurance company, they are betting that they will die.

This is the worst hypocrisy of all. These men who preach of their Lord actually bet against the words He said. "Verily, verily I say unto you, if a man keep my word, he shall never see death" (John 8:51).

If gambling is evil, then all gambling is evil. If drugs are evil, then even over-the-counter drugs are evil. If people believe in what they preach, then why don't they live it?

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Thad Cochran

Senator Cochran names staff director of Republican Conference

U.S. Senator Thad Cochran announced his appointment of William J. Feltus as staff director of the Republican Conference of the United States Senate.

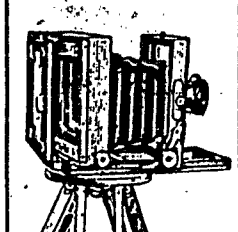

Feltus, a native of Natchez, is president of Market Consensus Surveys, Inc. Before starting the company in May 1988, he was vice-president of Market Opinion Research, Inc., and a pollster on the staff of Robert M. Teeter.

He first worked for Senator Cochran as a summer intern and later served as Press Secretary in Cochran's 1978 campaign for the U.S. Senate. He also served as the Senator's Press Secretary in the Senate until July 1979.

Feltus is a graduate of Yale College and the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. He and his wife, Lou, have two children.

Senator Cochran, who was elected chairman of the conference last month, said the appointment will be effective when the Senate reconvenes on Jan. 3.

The Senate Republican Conference includes all Republican members of the Senate.

—The potable and industrial water tables in areas of the Mississippi Gulf Coast have been dropping at a rate of four feet per year, James Head, director of the Gulf Regional Planning in Gulfport, told the Hancock County Board of Supervisors at their Monday morning meeting. Head said results of the drop could be 'disastrous' to Hancock County and other neighboring communities within the next five years.

—The Bay St. Louis Council, upon recommendation of Paul Vegas, Planning and Zoning Commission chairman, was unanimous in asking the Gulf Regional Planning Commission to produce an official zoning map for the municipality. The action was taken after the Council hired H.E. (Eddie) Englehorn, former city clerk, to research the minutes back to 1964, when the current zoning was adopted by the city for zoning changes.

—Two residents of the Fenton Community were arrested Saturday by Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division agents at a 150-gallon spot still and charged with illegally producing whiskey. Destroyed with the still were 20 55-gallon drum fermenters, 1,000 gallons of mash and other equipment.

—C.O. Dufour was elected to his 14th term as president of Waveland's Volunteer Firemen at the group's annual meeting. Adam Russell was named vice-president and Mrs. Gladys Noonan, secretary-treasurer. Appointments were, Kenny Fayard, chief; Sam Perniciaro, assistant chief; and Robert Lucas, engineer.

—Waveland Town Council pondered chances of federal aid for a new Town Hall community center and financing its proposed $1,375,000 sewerage program at a recessed meeting Tuesday night with B.M. Dornblatt, consulting engineer. Dornblatt finally was authorized to apply through two possible sources for the new town building money with the understanding he is not compensated until the town actually decides to go ahead with such a project.

Diamondhead's 20th anniversary celebrated

BY TRACI BONNEY

Diamondhead residents and business owners will celebrate two decades of the community's existence tonight with "20/20—A Vision of Diamondhead." The program commemorating Diamondhead's 20th anniversary will begin at 7 p.m. in the Diamondhead Country Club. Mississippi Republican Party Chairman Evelyn McPhail will emcee the event, and Dave Walters will entertain.

Hors d'oeuvres and beverages will be available. There is a $6-per-person charge for the food, and an additional charge for beverages.

Several "firsts" will be recognized — first homeowner, first condominium owner, first business people, among others.

Senator Trent Lott and other state and local dignitaries have been invited to attend.

Diamondhead began as a community in 1970, when property sales were initiated, but its success as a resort community has been recognized only recently. Residential and commercial growth in Diamondhead over the past five years have made the area a full-service community and caused many to wonder why Diamondhead does not move to become a city.

ASRM

She added that DEQ requires that within six months from the permit issue date (Tuesday) a plan for further technological development must be submitted.

NASA has many bridges to cross and many restrictions to uphold before the first rocket is fired.

According to McCaleb, upon completion of the testing site, NASA must then apply for a one-time firing permit. Before the initial firing permit is granted, "the construction site must meet all ascribed conditions."

After the one-time firing, tests will be made as to the effect on the environment, and if satisfactory, an operating permit will be granted, she added, to be renewed every three years.

Proposed testing during operation status will be four times a year. Each firing will last for 2.25 minutes and emit approximately 350 tons of air contaminants.

The permit states that at any time a violation occurs the project will be stopped.

An active opponent to the ASRM testing, Dr. Robert Esher, head of environmental research at the Mississippi State University Research Center in Stennis Space Center, and vice-president of Citizens for a Health Environment stated that "I spoke in haste," referring to a comment made on Tuesday about continuing the fight.

"My feelings are, we are not going to appeal (the permits), we are going to let it stand. It isn't worth the time and money."

Esher said his concerns were in particular with the air permit, saying, "They are not sure what is really coming out. NASA's test results were determined by computer models. They should have been experimental studies done."

Esher added that the state "has done a good job and should be commended."

"They are very stringent permits, and if NASA can comply, it should be fairly safe for the public."

Stennis employees exceed charity campaign goal

Federal and contractor employees of NASA's John C. Stennis Space Center have rallied once again to exceed this year's Combined Agency Campaign goal by just over 24 percent.

The fundraising effort, which began with a kickoff ceremony Sept. 11, expected to raise $145,900 to support organizations which help needy and disadvantaged people in the local communities and on a world-wide basis.

Contributions by Stennis

Space Center employees surpassed that goal by over $35,556 for a total of $181,456.

The charity drive reflects the combined contributions of Stennis Space Center's federal and industrial contractor employees. Dr. Jerry McCall, director of the National Data Buoy Center at Stennis, chaired this year's federal portion of the drive. Lin Ward, general manager of Sverdrup Technology Inc. at SSC, headed the industrial campaign.

According to McCall, the federal side of the charity drive had pledged $85,750. Employees contributed an unaudited total of $104,450, achieving 121.8 percent of their goal. The industrial campaign had set a goal of $60,150. Ward said contributions received exceeded that goal by $16,856 for a total of $77,006.

Both McCall and Ward were pleased with the participation of Stennis employees in this year's Combined Agency

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire Caire

It's beginning to taste a lot like Christmas all around my house, to paraphrase the song, as I busy myself stirring up all sorts of holiday treats for giving and for using during the holidays (at just about the last minute, as usual for me!).

But this almost frenzied activity came to an abrupt stop yesterday when Santa's messenger, in the guise of a UPS driver, brought me a package of books, among them a festive holiday cookbook and guide!

Inasmuch as I am one of that horde who read and devour a cookbook as avidly as others race through a best-selling mystery novel or such, I of course, put all the cooking and stirring on hold while I relaxed with a cup of tea and a copy of "Cook It Now, Serve Later."

This handsome and oh-so-useful tome, published by the Reader's Digest Association and distributed by Random House, is described in the foreword as "The best friend a busy cook can have"—and it's surely one of the very best, in my opinion.

With more than 425 recipes, many of them culled and adapted from outstanding cookbooks, and with more than 100 color photographs to whet your appetite, there's something for every taste and time. Noted food writer Jean Anderson, supervised selection of the recipes and menus, many of which I have earmarked for testing and enjoying!

As the book's editor, Lee Fowler, expresses it, this cookbook will help the busy cook "put good meals on the table while juggling job and family responsibilities" and so on, and will afford the cook "more time with the family, and less time in the kitchen."

Recipes range from the sophisticated to the casual, from the elegant to the easy, with all sorts of classic and ethnic specialties included. Entertaining is not neglected, with easy ways shown to cut the stress! All in all, this is a good book to have on hand.

And, the answer to one of my needs as well just now—a new, at least new to me, recipe for a tasty cranberry-walnut relish, which can star at the holiday table, or just about any other time, and a delightful choice for last minute gifts! Here's:

CRANBERRY-WALNUT RELISH

12 oz. fresh cranberries, stemmed, washed and drained (or frozen berries, thawed)
3/4 cup sugar
3/4 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

3/4 cup orange marmalade
1 Tbsp. lemon juice

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Place berries in shallow 1 1/2-qt. baking dish, and sprinkle with sugar. Cover with foil and bake 25 minutes. Sprinkle walnuts over, cover the dish again and bake 10 minutes longer.

Remove from oven, and stir in marmalade and juice until well mixed. Ladle into glass jars or storage containers. Let cool to room temperature, cover tightly and refrigerate for at least three hours. Will keep, refrigerated, up to three weeks, and can be frozen up to three months at 0 degrees. Serve with poultry or pork or whatever! (2 1/2 cups)

I made one batch with walnuts, the next with chopped pecans, as I had more pecans on hand. Both delicious!

County marks 178th birthday

By Joe Williams Pilet Research Historian

Twentieth Star Ch. NS DAR Get ready for this: I am about to let you in on what appears to be Hancock County's best kept secret!

The county was founded December 14, 1812. So that makes her 178 years old! No birthday celebration has been reported.

The purpose of this message is to wish our dearly loved county a happy birthday and to review some of her accomplishments.

When Hancock County was born, she was named for the first signer of the Declaration of Independence. Bay St. Louis was named the county seat. Actually, at that time, Bay St. Louis was a wide space in a village road. Pearlinton was the business center. Mail came to Bay St. Louis addressed in two different ways, Shieldsboro or Bay St. Louis. It was delivered either way.

Bay St. Louis was a summer resort town. Wealthy planters liked the climate, the excellent water, and they shipped their cotton by barge.

A highlight of progress came with the building of the New Orleans, Mobile and Chattanooga Railroad (completed in 1869).

The gentle ghosts of once pleasant little towns such as Westonia and Logtown still haunt and remind us that our area is changing from rural soil-related work to technology laboratories.

Happy Birthday, Hancock County. You are growing old in a beautiful way! But please don't grow too fast. We like you as you are.

The staff wishes all of you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Hancock Farmers eligible for loans

Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeutter named all counties in Mississippi as eligible for Farmers Home Administration emergency loans because of crop losses due to drought June 1-Aug. 31, 1990.

Farmers throughout the state have eight months to apply for the loans to help cover part of their actual losses. To be eligible, they must have suffered a 30-percent loss of normal production, be able to repay the loan and any other loans, be unable to get credit elsewhere, have adequate security and have multiperil crop insurance, if available.

For additional information, contact the local FmHA office at Suite H, Hancock Square, Bay St. Louis, or call 467-9008.

Slidell Little Theatre seeks original plays

Slidell Little Theatre is soliciting unpublished, unproduced, full-length plays as part of their first playwriting competition.

Entries will be accepted no later than Feb. 1, 1991. Finalists will be notified on or around April 15. The winning entry will be selected from the finalists.

The competition is open to Louisiana playwrights; playwrights who are Louisiana natives, professionally trained and/or educated in Louisiana or who are presently residing in the state are eligible.

Each playwright may submit two plays, but each play must be submitted separately. Entries must be original, full-length plays or adaptations. Musicals and one-act plays are not eligible.

A cash prize of $500 will be awarded the winning playwright. The winning script will receive a guaranteed stage reading, a plaque and press coverage.

The winning playwright will receive room and board and travel expenses to Slidell, La. Four finalists will receive honorable mention certificates.

All entries must be firmly bound and clearly identified. Entries must also be either typewritten or word processed. Entries not meeting these criteria will be disqualified. ### Campaign.

"I'm delighted that employees at SSC continue to support such worthy causes," McCall said.

SSC employees could specify from over 650 local, national and international organizations which ones they would like to receive their gifts.

In addition, gifts could be designated to help provide services for those in need in Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River counties in Mississippi, and the Greater New Orleans area and St. Tammany Parish in Louisiana.

Throughout the 1980s and into 1990, Stennis Space Center employees have contributed more than $1.6 million to this campaign.

NSU cashes in on BHS grad's talent

Greg Necaie has given the Northwestern State Demons their money's worth since they recruited him into the NSU football team.

Necaie, the son of Waveland resident Betty Necaie, was named recently to the Walter Camp Division I-AA Football All-America Team. He is the 19th NSU player, and the first since 1987, to win first-team All-America honors. He is also one of only two Louisiana players, and one of only two Southland Conference players, named to the team.

The team was chosen by vote of all I-AA head football coaches and sports information directors.

During the 1990 football season, Necaie made 95 tackles and 15½ sacks in 10 games. The 6-foot, 226-pound senior's performance accounted for minus-134 yards during the season.

Necaie was also the 1989 Newcomer of the Year on the All-Louisiana Football Team after collecting 13 sacks and 96 tackles in 11 games.

Necaie, who transferred to NSU from Pearl River Community College, is a Bay High School graduate to whom the Mississippi colleges paid little attention, despite his making second team all-state in high school and being a two-time All-Mississippi JC linebacker while at Pearl River.

"The Mississippi schools didn't even look at me at all. They didn't even talk to me. It made me mad," he said.

Necaie recovered from that anger after playing football at NSU and showing the team's coaches that they had made a good choice in recruiting him.

The coaches recognized his ability and determination after moving him from second-team linebacker to defensive end.

NSU Coach Sam Goodwin said of Necaie, "He's an effort guy. He chases the ball so hard. The thing that sets him apart is his intensity in practice. He'll give everything to make the play."

SSC tops BHS

Erik York and Grady Thigpen led the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws to a win over the Bay High Tigers in the Bay High Invitational Tournament last week.

York contributed 15 points and nine rebounds and Thigpen posted 14 points and nine rebounds in the 56-46 victory over hometown rival BHS.

Leading scoring for the Tigers was Calvin Thigpen with 13 points, followed by Scharp, 11; Mayfield, 9; Whavers, 5; Collins, 4; Necaie, 2; and Mazarius, 2.

Tossing in points for the Rocks were Booker, 11; Lee, 9; Schruoff, 3; Terrell, 2; and Hinkle, 2.

Local gymnasts

From left, A.J. Aleandro of Pass Christian, Wendy Colson of Waveland and Kim Lapierre of Pass Christian competed Saturday, Dec. 8 in Jackson and all three walked away with honors. Aleandro placed first on floor, Colson placed first on beam and all-around, and Lapierre placed first on vault. All three gymnasts are members of the Gems of Emerald Coast Gymnastics. ## BHS boys', girls' teams lose in tournament play

The Bay St. Louis Basketball Tournament was not an enjoyable experience for the Bay High boys' and girls' basketball teams December 15, as both teams lost to their opponents.

The boys' team was defeated by Pearl River, La., 92-66, while the girls' team lost to East Central 55-24.

In boys' basketball action, all five Pearl River starters scored in double figures as the team gained a 21-12 lead over the Tigers and held the lead for the remainder of the game.

Mike Jones led Pearl River's scoring with 14 points, while Paul Hyde and Ronald Abram each netted 12, Ryan Bailey had 11 and Jeff Cain 10. Mike Tramoto posted 10 rebounds.

The Tigers also had five scorers in double figures: Mike Scharp, 15; Calvin Thigpen, 12; Travis Collins and Trip Whavers, 11; and Tristian Robertson, 10.

The Tigers are now 5-8 for the season and will host St. John from Gulfport Friday.

In girls' action, East Central's Kellie Clark scored 26 points, a game high, and Tamara Blalock contributed 10 points. Scoring for Bay High were Collins, 6; Henley, 6; Walker, 5; Sheppard, 3; Tillman, 2; and Frederick, 2.

East Jackson, Graveline reefs open

Some oyster-growing areas in east Jackson County, including Graveline Bayou, opened for harvest Friday, Dec. 14.

The reefs include those in the Bangs Lake Complex and in Graveline. The Bangs Lake Complex was closed Dec. 3 because of excessive rainfall.

This will be the first time this season that Graveline Bayou has been opened for harvest. The bayou did not open with other reefs on Nov. 15 because of heavy rainfall shortly before Mississippi oyster season opened.

Excessive rainfall washes sewage-related bacteria from the mainland onto oyster reefs. If eaten by humans, oysters contaminated with sewage may cause such diseases as hepatitis and cholera.

Water samples taken Monday and Wednesday show that bacteria levels in the eastern Mississippi Sound are acceptable to allow harvest.

More rainfall can result in additional reef closures. No other state oyster reefs or private leases will be opened Friday.

For further information on the opening and closing of oyster reefs, contact the Bureau of Marine Resources oyster hot line at 385-5902.

Bearcats sink Rocks 76-47 in tourney championship

The Long Beach Bearcats captured the Bay St. Louis Basketball Tournament championship December 15 as they defeated the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws 76-47.

Bearcats Craig Stallings,

Kennan Smith and Marcus Bullard were key players in the game, with Stallings contributing a short jumper in the first period to make the score Long Beach 14, SSC 6.

By the end of the first half, the 'Cats were up by 20 at 39-19.

Stallings led the Bearcat scoring with 21, while Smith posted 14 and Bullard had 12.

For the Rocks, Ken Booker and Derek Inkol each got 12 points to share the spotlight as leading scorers.

The Bearcats remain undefeated in their first 18 games of the season, while the Rocks fall to 6-9.

In girls' basketball, the Long Beach Lady Bearcats edged the Hancock Lady Hawks 63-60 to take home the girls' championship.

The Lady Bearcats trailed by three points at halftime, but rallied in the last two minutes of the third period on two foul shots.

In the final quarter, the score remained close, and even tied three times at 52-52, 54-54, and 56-56.

However, Long Beach's Angela Holloway hit a three-pointer with three minutes left in the period. Hancock never regained the lead, although they did cut the margin to one point once more.

The Lady Bearcats now stand at 16 wins and two losses for the season, while the Lady Hawks remain at 9-2.

The Coast Episcopal High School Raiders are hosting their first Coast Classic Basketball Tournament starting today and continuing through Saturday.

The tournament will be played in the Coast Episcopal High School gym on Espy Avenue in Pass Christian.

Eight boys teams are playing: C M & I, Bensford, Camden, Ark., Faith, Harvest, and Nassau Christian from Nassau, Bahamas.

The team from Nassau arrived Saturday and has been busy playing basketball games against area schools and sightseeing.

Four girls' teams are participating: Bensford, C M & I, Riverside and Harvest.

The Coast Episcopal High School Raiders are now 11-5 on the season. Their first game is against Harvest at 7:30 Thursday night.

Raider junior team nets two wins

The Coast Episcopal Junior High basketball team closed out the first half of the season by winning two straight games. These two victories enable the Raiders to break for Christmas with a record of four wins and four losses.

The first of these two wins came Dec. 8 at Chamberlain-Hunt Academy. Seventh grader Chris Campbell poured in a season high 34 points as the Raiders recorded their highest point total of the year. In all, seven Coast Episcopal players scored points in the 54 to 37 victory.

Two nights later, the Raiders ended their 1990 schedule by downing the DeLisle Pirates 50 to 35. Guards Sanders Kane, seventh grade, and Marty VanderNoot, eighth grade, led a tough full-court press which put the game away early.

Seven players scored points, led by Chris Campbell with 24 and seventh grader Tommy Rumrill with 12. Seventh grader John Painter grabbed nine rebounds and turned in a solid defensive effort.

Many factors have combined to make the first half of the season so successful.

"In recent weeks, the defense has been very effective with eighth grader Bobby Garrett, Kane and VanderNoot doing an excellent job on the defensive end of the floor," said Raider Junior Varsity Coach Joe Campbell.

The rebounding has also improved. Center Rumrill has been leading the team in this area with Painter coming on strong in recent games.

Guard Chris Campbell leads the team in all offensive categories.

Campbell has scored in double figures in all eight games, producing an average of 21.5 points per game, as well as leading the team in field goal and free throw percentages.

Rounding out the Raider junior varsity team are seventh graders John Dane, Jamie Homrig, Mike Strojny and Alan Uram, and eighth grader Tim Gormley.

The Coast Episcopal Junior High team is looking forward to the second half of the season, which includes seven home games in January. The next opponent will be Ben's Ford Academy on Jan. 4.

PUBLIC HEARING

The Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission will hold a special public hearing Wednesday, January 2, 1991, 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chambers of City Hall following an order of the City Council to make recommendation on the following proposed changes to the Bay St. Louis Zoning Ordinance, being Ordinance No. 220:

(1) Article V shall be amended to add the following Section: Section 507. Water and Bottomlands. All waters and bottomlands within the territorial boundary lines of the City and located in either the Bay of St. Louis and its tributaries or the Mississippi Sound shall carry the same zoning as the abutting uplands.

(2) Article VI shall be amended to add the following Section: Section 604.1.24. Piers, docks, marinas and all activities permitted and authorized by the Mississippi Gaming Control Act of 1990, together with all amendments and revisions thereof.

Under present zoning dockside casino gambling is not allowed. These proposed changes would not only extend all present zoning past the waters edge, but they will also change the existing zoning to allow casino gambling in all of our commercially zoned districts (C-1, C-2 & C-3). It would allow gambling in some industrial zones as well.

SECTION B

Godard, Kibler reign over Krewe of Diamondhead

Special to the Echo
by Hilda Bourg

On Saturday, Dec. 8, the Krewe of Diamondhead held its annual Coronation Ball at the Diamondhead Country Club, which was decorated with red poinsettias, red streamers and gold foliage.

Flags in the traditional carnival colors of purple, green and gold with the krewe logo were placed throughout the room. The bandstand was draped in gold lame.

The officers of the Krewe of Diamondhead were introduced by the master of ceremonies, president Stan Robert. They are, treasurer, Jerry Bourg; secretary, Clarice Gustin; parade lieutenant, Chris Arnos; publicity lieutenant, Hilda Bourg; and social lieutenant, Henry Bourkhardt.

Decoration chairman was Laura Almerico, who received a special gift from the krewe for her continuous services in decorating for all krewe functions.

The sound of trumpets preceded the announcement of the captain of the Krewe of Diamondhead, Benny Mistretta.

The court for the 1991 carnival season was presented.

Dukes to King Ali'i Honua XVI are Bob Crim, Bill Eckert, Norman Schuback and Paul Snemyr.

Maids to the Queen are Jean McWilliams, Ethel Phillip, Charlotte Reshew and Ruth Rhodes.

The official song of Mardi Gras, "If Ever I Cease to Love," was played while King Ali'i Honua XV Ronald Bankston and his Queen Linda (Linn) Godard made their final promenade around the floor before ending their reign.

Godard was attired in a cream color sequined ball gown accented with stones and pearls.

The captain presented the 1991 royal couple, King Ali'i Honua XVI Ted Godard and his Queen Evelyn Kibler, who wore a red ball gown accented with a rhinestone belt.

After the official crowning ceremony, the traditional toast was led by Mistretta. The newly crowned king responded with a toast to his lovely queen, the past royalty and his subjects.

Afterwards, Godard gave his royal proclamation declaring that all golf rounds would be sub-par; that all tennis serves would be aces; that all hands in bridge would be slams; that all poker hands would be royal flushes; and that Diamondhead Carnival festivities had begun.

Past Krewe of Diamondhead Kings and Queens who were present were King Ali'i Honua I Joe Salvatore; 1977 King Wally Little; 1980 Queen Lee Fredian; 1982 Queen Cecile Guice; 1983 King Tommy Heier and his Queen Hilda L. Bourg; 1984 King Jerry Bourg and his Queen Lorraine Heier;

1985 King Vincent Almerico Sr. and his Queen Ann Neff; 1986 King Tom Satterlee and his Queen Laura Almerico;

1987 King Stan Robert and his Queen Maelys Swartzendruber; 1988 King Charles Johnson, Sr.; and 1989 King Herb Larson and his Queen Dot Hoskins.

The 1991 King and Queen of the Sea from the Krewe of Kamehameha were introduced, King Akua Kai XVII Harvey Comfort and his Queen Nell Dennis.

Other past royalty from the Krewe of Kamehameha were 1982 Queen Pat Stafford; 1983 King Lou Cotton;

1985 King Bud Freeman and his Queen Mary Lou Freeman;

1986 Queen Jean Keen; and 1990 King R. B. Boatright and his Queen Nina Cotton.

The first dance was led by the royal couple who was joined by the officers, dukes, maids, the 1990 royal couple and King Akua Kai XVII Harvey Comfort and his Queen Nell Dennis.

Music was provided by "Jamm" for the coronation ceremony and for the dinner-dance which followed.

On Saturday morning, a motorcade moved through Diamondhead to the homes of the 1991 royal couple to present them with flags to be flown throughout the carnival season signifying their royalty. After the presentation of the royal flags, the 1991 queen hosted a brunch at her residence.

Hancock Soil, Water District marks 45 years of conservation

Hancock County Soil and Water Conservation District celebrated a very important event this year.

For 45 years, the public has been able to depend on Hancock County Soil and Water Conservation District to administer the programs and provide assistance on the needs of conservation.

Through the joint efforts of HCSWCD and the Soil Conservation Service, not only has conservation awareness grown, but the number of conservation practices applied have increased greatly.

Conservation districts had their beginning in the 1930's when Congress, in response to national concern over mounting erosion, floods, and the sky-blackening dust storms that swept across the country, enacted the Soil Conservation Act of 1935.

The act stated for the first time a national policy to provide a permanent program for the control and prevention of soil erosion, and directed the Secretary of Agriculture to establish the Soil Conservation Service to implement this policy.

Oct. 31, 1945 Secretary of State Walker Woods certified district.

Due to the various programs and agencies cooperating with assistance from the state and federal government, the District conservation has become a well known and useful service the Hancock County SWCD had been duly organized under the provisions of Chapter 253, Laws of 1938.

Fitzhugh Lee, Otho Rest, A.E. Smith, Lucien Hoda and J. A. Dedaux were the first commissioners for the newly formed in Hancock County.

Conservation districts are local governmental subdivisions established under state law to carry out a program for the conservation, use and development of soil, water and related resources.

Districts work with land managers, local government agencies and other local interests in addressing a broad spectrum of resource concerns: erosion control; flood prevention; water conservation and use; wetlands; ground water and surface water quality; nonpoint source pollution; forest land management; wildlife and recreational management; and community development.

The need for more efforts are ever apparent as we go into this next decade.

District activities fall into three general categories:

—Cooperation in implementing federal resource programs

—Cooperation in implementing state and local programs, including state erosion and sediment control programs; and —Carrying out independent resource management programs.

On Nov. 5, the District held a special meeting to commemorate the beginning of the district. In attendance were members of the Board of Supervisors, Senator Victor Frankiewicz, Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise, Hancock County Agent Randy Smith, along with the District Commissioners.

The future is made up of many factors, and one of the most important being conservation of natural resources. Therefore, it is the wish of our district that in the years to come, conservation will not only be a program for a few in our county but for everyone.

Diamondhead district changes meeting dates

The Diamondhead Water and Sewer District board of commissioners will meet on the second and fourth Mondays of each month beginning in January.

The decision was made at the November 26 meeting of the district at the home of secretary/treasurer Jean Jaumot. Present were Lou Hall, Ed Dabler, Dick Nolan, Stephen Guice, Jim Brumfield and Zoe Bretzius-Bowers.

If no business is scheduled prior to the fourth Monday of the month, the following meeting will be cancelled, with notice to be published.

The bride is the daughter of Kenneth and Jean Junio of Kewaunee. The groom is the son of Raymond and Mary Lou Koch of Slidell, La.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her mother's gown of candlelight white taffeta with a sweetheart neckline and chapel length train.

She carried a bouquet of pink roses and stephanotis.

Deborah Doster was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Melanie Junio, Melissa Junio and Kristen Koch Glancey.

Best man was Kenny Ladner. Ushers were Mike Junio, Chris Koch and Kevin Glancey. The couple is residing in Bay St. Louis.

MR. AND MRS. MARK ALLEN KOCH

Kenmar-Schwabacher

The bride's home was the setting for the November 25 wedding of Sherry Anderson Schwabacher of Bay St. Louis to Huey Thomas Kenmar of Bay St. Louis.

The bride is the daughter of William R. Anderson of Peoria, Ill., and the late Anna Cort Anderson. The groom is the son of Betty and J.R. Jarrell of Clermont Harbor and Huey Kenmar of Baton Rouge, La. The ceremony was witnessed by Miguel Nicholson and L'Juana Bowens of the Gulfport Baha'i Spiritual Assembly.

Music was provided by flutist Susie Veglia and pianist Jim Ballard.

Readings and prayers were offered by Susie Veglia, L'Juana Bowens, Bahiyah Schwabacher, Aileen Schwabacher, Miguel Nicholson and George Bryan.

The bride wore a red crepe pleated skirt with red crepe tunic trimmed at the hem and cuffs with red satin, and a white carnation corsage. Sprigs of baby's breath ornamented her hair.

The couple is residing in Bay St. Louis.

A reception, catered by Tommy Zanca, was held at the bride's home following the ceremony.

A wedding shower was given for the bride by Diane DiFrias and Carol Sloane at the Old Towne Coffee Shop the Wednesday before the wedding.

Take Off Pounds Sensibly

WAVELAND

TOPS No. 233 Waveland met Wednesday, Dec. 5 at the Waveland Public Library. Shelly was the week's best loser with 3 1/2 pounds and was honored for being the November best loser, losing six weeks in a row, and reaching her 40-pound loss. She received three charms to display on her banner.

Carolyn received a charm for reaching her halfway-to-goal status.

When Tops met Tuesday, Dec. 11, Charlotte was the week's best loser with 4 1/2 pounds.

Carolyn reached her goal and will become a Kops-in-waiting for 13 weeks. If she stays within her goal during these weeks, she will become a KOPS (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly).

The annual Christmas party will follow the meeting next Tuesday. All members are reminded to bring a $5 exchange gift and make time to stay after the meeting for holiday fellowship.

The Christmas Tree Contest ended. Rose won the money for the Kops participants, and Shelly won the money for the Tops participants.

Miller-Rainey

The Friendship Oak in Long Beach was the setting for the November 24 wedding of Brenda Gail Rainey and Frank Joseph Miller Jr., both of Mesquite, Texas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Russell of Waveland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller Sr. of Bay Side Park.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin designed and handmade by the groom's mother, featuring a sweetheart neckline and softly scooped back. The fitted bodice and full-puffed upper sleeves with fitted, tapered lower sleeves were embellished with 4mm pearls. The sleeves and back waist were accented with white satin bows.

The full circular skirt was gathered to the princess seam bodice at a shaped lower seam and featured multiple layers of illusion tulle sparkled with diamond dust. The hem was edged with silver thread and narrow white satin ribbon. Several rows of pearls accentuated the shapes of the pointed sleeves, neckline and bodice edge.

She wore a veil of illusion, gathered and puffed around a base of three rows of pearls on a shaped band with a single teardrop pearl at the center forehead. The veil was accented with flower and pearl sprays.

Linda George was the maid of honor. Angelia Miller was the bridesmaid.

Ring bearer was M.S. George.

Best man was Steve Miller. The groom's father, Frank Miller Sr., was groomsman. Richard Santiago was usher.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Diamondhead Country Club.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner the eve of the wedding at their home.

The couple is making their home in Mesquite, Texas.

Elgin-Watson

Trinity Presbyterian Church in Baton Rouge, La., was the setting for the August 11 wedding of Jeanine Watson and Kirk Elgin.

The bride, formerly of Bay St. Louis, is the daughter of James Watson of Bay St. Louis and the late Judy Taillac Watson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white bridal taffeta, featuring a Victorian neckline, long sleeves and fitted basque waist, highlighted by handmade lace accented with pearls and sequins. The full skirt was accented with matching border lace and appliques and continued into a cathedral train.

Her fingertip veil of white illusion lace was attached to a band of chantilly lace and pearls adorned with a pout.

The bride carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums with iridescent ribbon trimmed with pearls and sequins.

Barbara Fritz of Jonesville, La. was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Shelly Relan of Kiln, Minette Elgin of Bossier City, La., Jannie Killen and J'londa Ban of Bay St. Louis and Connie Bergeron of Baton Rouge, La.

Flower girls were Tiffany McGinnis and Meghan Higginbotham.

Edward (Rocky) del Castillo of New Orleans was ring bearer.

Best man was Shawn McGinnis of Nashville, Tenn.

Groomsmen were Greg Richardson, Keith Ashford and Robert Fowler, all of Baton Rouge, and Jeff Elgin of Bossier City, La.

A reception followed the evening ceremony.

The couple is residing in Baton Rouge, La.

American Legion Post 77 Auxiliary

Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray American Legion Post 77 Auxiliary held its last meeting of 1990 Dec. 4.

The meeting was called to order by President Janice Carver. Chaplain Mary Caillier presented the opening prayer. The colors were advanced by Sergeant-at-Arms Marian Marsh and Color Bearer Elaine Lytell.

Before the reports of the various committees were given, member Terri Green, a U.S. postal employee, gave a program on the proper way to address mail to ensure its speedy delivery.

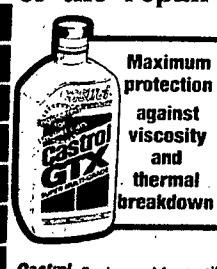

She showed an episode of the TV series 'Cheers,' featuring Cliff the Mailman and his trouble in delivering improperly addressed mail.

Members voted to donate funds to help the Gulfport Veterans Center have a Christmas party on Dec. 18 for all the veterans there.

After the closing prayer the colors were retired and the meeting ended.

The next meeting will be Jan. 8.

A PROVEN SOLUTION TO KIDNEY STONE PROBLEMS!

More than two million people have had kidney stones removed without a scratch.

Lithotripsy is a proven, cost-effective and much less painful alternative to surgical removal of kidney stones, utilizing a special technique to disintegrate the stones.

Slidell Memorial Hospital is proud to announce the availability of a state-of-the-art "bath-less" Lithotripter for management of kidney stones. A series of quick, short waves reduce the stones to sand-sized particles that easily pass through the patient's urine.

The advantages include lower cost, shorter recovery time and better patient tolerance. The "bath-less" technique has the added advantage of an environment that maintains your privacy, as you are not required to be completely unclothed at the time of the procedure. Because it is so efficient, treatment usually requires less than one hour and can be performed on an outpatient basis, allowing you to resume everyday activities shortly after discharge.

If you're already suffering from kidney stones, why suffer a painful recovery from surgery when there is a fast, effective non-surgical alternative. For more information about this exciting procedure, please call 646-0044.

Volunteer landscape architects

Hancock High School students assisting in landscaping the new facility include, from left, Bradley McKay, Glen Broussard, FFA sponsor; A. J. Kennedy, Clark Blackwell, Richard Seal, Arnie Ladner, David Tyree, Vincent Anderson, Malcome Ladner, Jessie Luxich, Joseph Delancy, Steve Granger and Michael LaFontaine.

Students volunteer time to landscape Hancock High

The students and community have shown pride in the new Hancock High School.

Beta Club, sponsored by Patricia Dedeaux; Future Homemakers of America, sponsored by Debbie Lain; and Future Farmers of America, sponsored by Glen Broussard, were determined to plant flowers in the flower beds in front of the Administration Building before open house ceremonies on Nov. 11. The clubs joined forces, and project "Painting the Seeds for Future Growth" was born. Wal-Mart and Kmart donated the necessary ingredients for the soil. The Future Farmers of America prepared the soil. Mrs. Paula Faye Necaise, a local resident and parent, donated all of the mums and pansies.

Flowers were planted by Roy and Debbie Lain and Patricia Dedeaux.

USM fall graduates named

Some 1,100 candidates for doctoral, specialist's, master's and bachelor's degrees participated in fall commencement ceremonies Dec. 14 at 6:30 p.m. in the Reed Green Coliseum at the University of Southern Mississippi.

U.S. Rep. Trent Lott delivered the keynote address to some 1,081 graduates that included candidates for 772 bachelor's degrees, 258 master's degrees, eight specialist's degrees and 43 doctoral degrees.

Local graduates included: Bay St. Louis: Bachelor of Science; Tiffany Nicole Frederick, Michael Thomas Gauthier, Dina Gerette Hitt, Tonya Barrett Johnston and Samuel Stephen Smith.

Master of Science; Lance Edward Lacour, Ross Carl Santell and James Michael Stephens.

Master of Education; Mary Linda Krail Flores, Susan Ann Hamsie, Andrew Peter Kivlan and Tracy Lynn Lipscomb Riley.

Master of Music Education; Gary Wayne Adam.

Master of Social Work; Lucy Villavaso Campbell.

Clermont Harbor: Bachelor of Science, Cary Stacy Smith.

Kilm: Bachelor of Science; Ernest Scott Favre.

Pearlington: Bachelor of Science; Lesley Karen Bennett and Cabrina Natasha Doby.

Waveland: Bachelor of Science in Business Administration; Roy Austin Calhoun II, Karen Peterson Nelson and Tracey Anne Wright.

Master of Business Administration; Diane Galvin Wopat.

Crisis Center donation

Janet Roche's child development class collected baby items for donation to the Hancock County Pregnancy Crisis Center. They recently completed an "egg baby" unit in which each person was given an egg to care for as if it were a real baby. From left are Shawn Brokmeier, Crisis Center director Linda Mullin, Angie Borchert and Syria Shipp.

Scianna inducted into PR society

Linda Scianna of Bay St. Louis was inducted into the Public Relations Student Society of America (PRSSA) during a ceremony at the University of Southern Mississippi. PRSSA is USM's student chapter of the national Public Relations Society of America (PRSA), a society of public relations professionals.

Marion LaNasa, president of the New Orleans, La. chapter of PRSA, was guest speaker during the induction ceremony, where some 30 USM communications majors were initiated in 1991.

Scianna is a 22-year-old senior communications major and a graduate of Bay Senior High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Scianna of Bay St. Louis.

Buras concert presented

Bradburn Buras of Port Sulphur, La. was presented in a piano recital Sunday, December 9 at the home of his teacher, Colby Fabian.

The program consisted of works by Bach, Clementi, Beethoven, Liszt and Chopin. Buras began piano lessons in February 1990.

After the recital, Fabian played several selections by Chopin.

Reduce holiday stress by planning, exercising

Sometimes a little stress in life can prod people along to meet deadlines and face problems, but often a little stress can turn into distress. Unfortunately, the holidays provide more than adequate opportunities for distress.

"It seems odd that happy times could cause distress, but unrealistic expectations that everyone will act in loving and happy ways during the holidays and that holiday plans will always come together for everyone's satisfaction bring distress," said Dr. Ann Jarratt, youth development specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

"Even favorite people become cross and disagreeable," she said. "Cakes flop; kids misbehave; spouses growl and grumble; and the holiday decorations have never looked more worn. Who wouldn't feel distressed?"

Jarratt said part of the holiday planning process, is planning to beat stress.

"Don't expect any more perfection from yourself, your family or friends than they normally exhibit," she said. "To be on the safe side, expect a little less since the holidays may have created distress for them."

Plan ahead. Make to-do lists with dates and times assigned to them. Don't overplan.

"Don't bite off more than you can chew," Jarratt said. "Be realistic about what is necessary and possible under your circumstances."

Rest. When the body is tired, distress can slip in.

"Exercise—20 to 30 minutes of brisk walking or other aerobic activity reduces stress much better than any artificial stress reducer you might swallow."

Jarratt said

Busy times around the holidays require more energy. Eat regular meals. This keeps the energy level up and reduces the probability of eating too much holiday goodies.

"Find time to be alone and reflect on your blessings," Jarratt said. "Even people who love crowds and commotion can benefit from quiet reflection."

Christmas story hour Friday in Waveland

'Twas the Week Before Christmas' will be the theme for this week's children's story hour at the Waveland Library on Coleman Avenue.

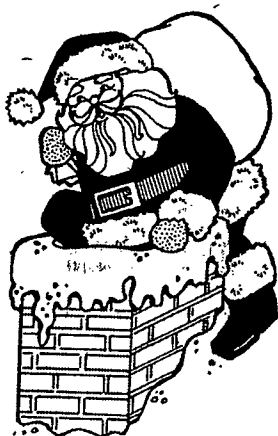

Christmas in the Barn, Chita's Christmas and The Night Before Christmas are the books to be featured at the Waveland Library on Friday, Dec. 21 at 10:30 a.m. The children will also see a finger play and receive a coloring sheet.

Due to the Christmas holidays there will be no story hour Wednesday, Dec. 26 at the City-County Library, or Friday, Dec. 28 at the Waveland Library.

Story hours will resume Wednesday, Jan. 2 and Friday, Jan. 2, respectively.

Programs and activities are designed for pre-school children, three to five years of age, who are not part of a nursery or pre-school group. Programs last approximately one hour.

More information may be obtained by calling Karen Peoples at the Waveland Library at 467-9240, or Sandra Ladner, City-County Library, 467-5282.

In memory of lost friends

Members of St. Stanislaus Students Against Driving Drunk heightened awareness of the perils of drinking and driving by participation in a statewide "Ghost Out." SADD moderators Caffery Jackson and Mark Cumella chose students at random to represent the "ghosts" of student fatalities. At left, Cumella applies white face paint to junior Brian LaLonde. Students who were "ghosts" dotted the ranks of each class, as do junior Trian Platz, senior Bill Roth and LaLonde in bottom photo. St. Stanislaus has lost two students as a result of drunken driving accidents, according to Principal Brother Paul Montero. A moving ceremony was highlighted by stories of personal losses due to alcohol-related accidents. (Photo by Janet McQueen)

Driscoll, Tillman named winners

Two Bay High students, Kevin Driscoll and Charlene Tillman, were recognized for their artistic talents at the recent Children in Arts Contest sponsored by Coast Episcopal Schools and Pepsi-Cola of Gulfport.

Driscoll was selected grand prize winner in the eighth grade division of area schools and will receive a $50 United States Savings Bond.

Tillman received honorable mention in the eighth grade division of area schools.

PRC slates orientation

Orientation for all new students who plan to enroll in spring classes at Pearl River Community College will be Monday, Jan. 7 at 8:30 a.m.

Dr. Becky Askew, director of guidance, recruitment and orientation, said all first-time students need to be present to receive instructions for advisement and registration.

Counselors will be available to discuss topics of interest. Following the general session, campus tours will be available. There is no fee for orientation.

It should be noted that all students should have their transcripts on file in the admissions office, or they may bring them to orientation.

All academic and technical students are required to have an ACT score on file. Vocational students must have taken the Adult Basic Education (TABE) test.

Anyone who has not taken the tests should call the Office of Guidance and Recruitment at 795-6801 for additional information.

Bellone selected to 'Who's Who'

HARRIET BELLONE

Harriet Bellone has been selected for Who's Who Among America's Teachers, 1990.

The nomination was made by one of Bellone's former students.

"There is no greater honor for a teacher than to be recognized for excellence by former students. We salute Miss Bellone and congratulate her on this high achievement. St. Clare is justly proud of her outstanding service to students," said Principal Sister Jane Birrcher.

HEART ATTACKS DON'T KEEP OFFICE HOURS.

WHEN EVERY SECOND COUNTS, YOU CAN COUNT ON US.

In the critical moments after a heart attack, immediate expert medical attention is crucial to survival. There's no time to try and track down a cardiologist. At Slidell Memorial Hospital, our Cardiology Team is at the ready anytime, all the time. Your call puts into action a well-honed emergency assistance plan. Even as the Emergency One ambulance speeds to the scene, skilled cardiac surgeons and other specialists prepare for the patient's arrival. By radio, cardiologists instruct emergency medical technicians on how to stabilize the patient enroute.

Not a second is wasted.

NOT A SECOND IS WASTED.

Slidell Memorial Hospital is the first in our area to provide 'round-the-clock emergency cardiology care. Timely specialized treatment by our team of highly-trained doctors, nurses, and technicians has given literally hundreds of heart attack victims a second chance... and a future.

THE
CARDIOLOGY
TEAM

(504) 643-3563
(800) 627-7733

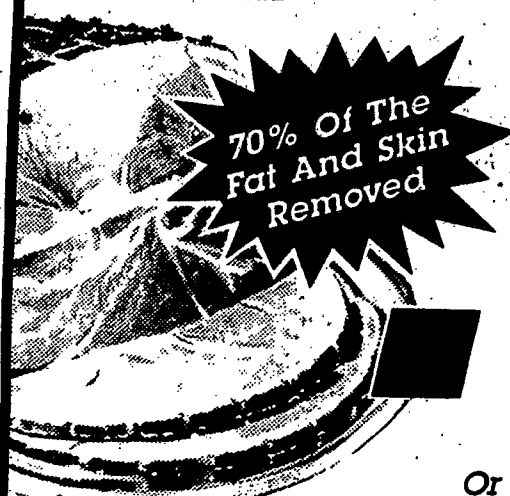

Our 24 Hour Cardiology Team is only one important service of Slidell Memorial Hospital's heart program. Our cardiology center provides prevention and early diagnosis programs, state-of-the-art treatment, and rehabilitation.

We're always here. Just in case.
